NSE launches undergrad programme for analysts

NSE ACADEMY, A wholly owned subsidiary of National Stock Exchange of India (NSE), has collaborated with Eidos Career LLP to launch Global Applied Financial Analyst (GAFA) Program. The programme is launched for undergraduate students to train them in areas such as development of financial markets, growth of Indian banking system, mutual funds route of investments, hedging mechanism of derivatives, fundamental & technical analysis of stock markets. "We expect that students will immensely benefit from this undergraduate programme as it will train them with industry relevant curriculum and provide them with practical learnings through internships," said Ravi Varanasi, chief business development at NSE and CEO, NSE Academy.
